

Spacecraft Launched On 7-Month, 325 Million-Mile Trip To Mars

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Mariner 4, an electronic explorer representing the United States' last chance to take a closer look at Mars before late 1966, rocketed away from earth today on the start of an intended 7½-month trip to take pictures and gather scientific data.

A 10-story-tall Atlas-Agena rocket thundered skyward at 9:22 a.m. EST with a rush of flame from its three booster engines.

It was to propel the glittering interplanetary ship across 325 million miles of space for a brief encounter with the red planet next July 14.

PERFECT COUNTDOWN
After a perfect countdown, the big booster lifted smoothly from its launching pad on a rush of flame generated by its three first-stage engines.

If all goes well, Mariner 4 will streak within 8,600 miles of Mars and radio to earth the first closeup information ever obtained about the planet.

Officials reported 10 minutes after launching that the Atlas first stage apparently performed as intended and that the Agena second stage had fired and propelled itself into orbit about 115 miles above the earth.

The second stage, with the Mariner craft attached, was to continue in this parking orbit for 32 minutes until it reached a desired position over the Indian Ocean.

KICK PAYLOAD
Then it was to reignite its engine and kick the payload toward Mars at about 25,600 miles an hour.

The flight control center announced that after 5 minutes, 22 seconds of flight the 319-pound protective shroud had ejected as planned. Structural failure of a shroud made of weaker material ruined the Mariner 3 flight earlier this month. Purpose of the covering is to shield the spacecraft from aerodynamic forces during the early minutes of flight.

Many astronomers believe Mars harbors a basic form of life, such as micro-organisms or moss-like vegetation, but the 574-pound robot was not designed to detect life. Its goal is to collect data that engineers need to build capsules which the United States plans to land on Mars in 1969.

40-SECOND FLASH
A key bit of information ought was the density of the Martian atmosphere. Mariner 4 was to collect it during a swift 60-second penetration before whirling past the planet into orbit about the sun.

Experts hope to be able to determine the density by studying changes in the strength of radio signals received during the brief period. The signal strength would be altered by atmospheric distortion.

If the atmosphere is thick, parachutes should suffice for dropping capsules on Mars. If it is thin, braking rockets or other devices might have to be developed.

TAKE 22 PICTURES
The spacecraft television camera was designed to snap 22 pictures during the 30-minute period of near-encounter next July. Mariner 4 was equipped with magnetic tape to store the pictures for leisurely transmission to earth during a 10- to 20-day period after the craft zips

$850 Damages In Friday Accident

No one was injured but damage totaled $850 Friday afternoon when a station wagon operated by Connie Hankey, 16, Gettysburg R. 6, traveling west on W. Middle St., struck a parked sedan owned by Elaine L. Weigle, also of R. 6, pushing it over the sidewalk.

The Hankey car, after striking the Weigle vehicle in the rear, struck a tree, damaging the front of the station wagon to the extent of $450. Damage to the Weigle car was $400. Borough police said Miss Hankey, a junior operator, did not realize her car had drifted out of the traffic lane.

CATHOLICS TO BEGIN ENGLISH MASS SUNDAY

St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church, W. High St., will join thousands of other Catholics on Sunday when the priest will proclaim in clear audible English: "The Lord be with you."

That is to be the great refrain of the Mass. For nearly 2,000 years it has been said in Latin, "Dominus Vobiscum."

The Rev. Fr. Joseph P. Kealy, pastor, said English will be used at the first service on Sunday at 6 a.m.

The change from Latin to the language of the people is one of the far-reaching liturgical reforms authorized by the Vatican Ecumenical Council last year. The council decree left it up to each national hierarchy to decide when the new "vernacular mass" would take effect. U. S. Catholic bishops chose November 29—the first Sunday of Advent, the beginning of a new church year.

USE SOME LATIN

Latin will continue to be used for some parts of the Mass, notably the prayers which the priest says silently at the altar during the preparation and consecration of the bread and wine.

But English will henceforth be lawful for all parts of the service which are intended for the instruction of the people, or in which the congregation is expected to participate.

These include the scripture readings, the Creed, the Lord's Prayer and the ancient hymn of praise known as the Gloria, which begins, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth, peace to men of good will."

The use of English is only one of several innovations in Catholic worship which will delight some worshippers and disturb others.

GROWERS SEE NEW MACHINES FOR ORCHARDS

Approximately 100 county fruit-growers turned out Friday to see mechanical devices in action that may help them handle the future's heavy fruit crop.

County growers, according to the recently completed tree count, have 220,000 new apple trees alone during the last seven years and the orchards in the county have shown the greatest increase in size of any county in Pennsylvania and possibly the nation. The apple trees alone have increased 50 per cent in the county over the last seven years—and the county has for decades been first in Pennsylvania in apple production. Adams County now has more than one-third of all apple trees in the state.

Powered pruning platforms and "shakers" for harvesting were the principal machines shown at the sessions Friday which began in the morning at the C. H. Musselman Division of Pet Milk's Blue Ribbon Orchard, near Ardenstville, and ended in the afternoon at the William Lott "Bonnie Brae" orchard near Gardners.

SELF-PROPELLED PLATFORM

Several varieties of pruning platforms were demonstrated. The self-propelled platforms are operated by the man on the platform itself. They can move from tree to tree, and the platform can be raised or lowered to the desired height. All have power available for pruning shears and saws. One type shown Friday used a hydraulic system, another

MORE WHEAT FARMERS SIGN FOR PROGRAM

Adams County farmers, who signed this fall in increased numbers for the 1965 wheat program are "in line" with other farmers throughout the nation, a check on statistics of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service discloses.

A total of 608 county farmers have signed, putting 7,453 acres for wheat allotments and diverting 2,483 acres from wheat production.

The county's total wheat allotment, for 1,904 farms, is 17,755 acres.

The number in the county signed for the 1965 wheat program is an increase of about 200 over the prior year.

OPPORTUNITY TO MODIFY

On the national level a record number of 780,916 farms were signed this fall under the voluntary 1965 wheat program, according to D. Richard Wenner, state executive director for ASCS. The national figures compare to 612,000 signed for the 1964 program and 429,000 for 1963.

Signup in the predominantly spring wheat areas is to be February 8 to March 26, 1965, at the same time as the 1965 feed grain program signup. Those farmers who took part in the fall signup may modify their intentions until the close of the spring wheat signup; however, farmers wishing to oversee their allotments and store the excess under bond had to state this intention at the time they signed up.

Since around 100,000 producers took part in the 1964 wheat program in the seven states where the spring wheat signup will take place, it is expected that their participation will bring 1965's total signup nationally to well over the 820,000 record total set for the first of the new wheat programs in 1962.

SEES HIGHER INCOME

In Pennsylvania, the 1965 signup showed 18,887 enrolled to divert 76,354 acres, as compared to 11,671 farms enrolled with diversion of 36,903 acres in 1964.

In announcing the national totals for the 1965 winter wheat setup, Secretary of Agriculture Freeman said: "This report indicates that farmers recognize the value and importance of price-support programs to their farms and to a stable and sound economy. The level of participation, if it holds, assures wheat producers that total wheat income for the 1965 crop will be higher than for 1964, and substantially above the level which would be earned if there were no price-support program."

Program benefits available to growers who sign up in the 1965 wheat program and then carry out the appropriate provisions include price-support loans, marketing certificates, and diversion payments. The diversion payment rates have been increased to 50 per cent of the county loan rate in order to encourage maximum diversion and continued progress in reducing excessive grain stocks.

REPORTS FOR DUTY

James C. Heller, aviation boatswain's mate first class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert N. Heller, Biglerville R. 1, recently reported for duty at the U. S. Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Meriden, Miss. The station, part of the Naval Air Basic Training Command, is one of the newest and most modern of its kind in the United States and is dedicated to the training of future naval jet aviators.

The students first attacked the American building and then turned to the Belgian and Congolese embassies, demonstrating about 20 to 30 minutes at each place.

U. S. Charge d'Affairs Walter Stoessel Jr. protested the action in strong terms to the Soviet Foreign ministry and demanded compensation for damage done and better Soviet police protection.

At the U. S. Embassy the students ignored appeals for calm and it took 30 mounted policemen to disperse the crowd.

STERN MEASURES

Once the demonstration got out of hand, police took stern measures. One policeman was seen slugging an African student in the face, knocking him to the ground. The policeman kicked the student twice with heavy boots.

SANTA ARRIVES FOR HOLIDAYS FRIDAY NIGHT; GREET KIDS

Santa Claus came to town Friday night and more than 2,000 persons, most of preschool age, accompanied by parents, were on hand to greet the bearded har-binger of Christmas.

Led by the borough police car, and the Gettysburg Senior High School Band directed by Robert Zeigler, Santa arrived in a sleigh drawn by reindeer mounted on a truck—courtesy of the Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Following Santa's float came a float prepared by the Upper Adams Jaycees. Titled "Let's Keep Christ in Christmas," the float bore a Nativity scene.

OCCUPIES SHANTY

The band, presenting a rendition of "Here Comes Santa Claus," preceded Santa from the high school to Lincoln Square. After circling the square the whole procession returned to the Plaza corner where Borough Councilman William Lentz was on hand in the Gettysburg Fire Department service truck to welcome Santa.

In extending the greetings of Gettysburg, Lentz told Santa: "I want you to know that all of the children in the area have been especially good this year and deserving of a great Christmas."

He presented Santa with a mythical key, which, when pushed turned on the Christmas decorations on the borough's streets. The sudden appearance of the varicolored lights in the draperies of tinsel brought an "oh" of appreciation from the spectators.

Santa then made his way through the throng to his new "Shanty," constructed by the Gettysburg Jaycees on Lincoln Square alongside the Adams County National Bank. The new structure is more modern than the log cabin that had been Santa's Shanty for a number of years.

MANY VISIT SANTA

The building has a front door through which youngsters can visit Santa, and a side door through which they can make their exit, so there was no "traffic" problem.

But there was a great number of children waiting to see Santa and the line extended up to the corner of Baltimore St. during most of the evening.

Santa, who has a fine comfortable chair in which to sit in his new home, dispensed comments, advice, and apples—the latter contributed by the Adams County Fruitgrowers' Association.

Santa will be at the Shanty again tonight from 7 to 9 and each Friday and Saturday night until Christmas.

BULLETIN

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A federal court jury, in a blockbuster decision in the "cancer-from-cigarettes" controversy, has found that cigarettes "are reasonably safe and wholesome for human consumption."

The verdict, reached Friday night after only two hours of deliberation, denied damages to the estate of Edwin L. Green of Miami, a three-packs-a-day smoker who died of lung cancer in 1957. Green's estate had sued the American Tobacco Co. for $1.5 million, contending that the cancer was caused by smoking Lucky Strike cigarettes.

EXPECT LBJ TO VIEW POLICY IN S. VIET NAM

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson was expected to give some clue today to his view of the major foreign policy problem of his administration — the future of the anti-Communist war in South Viet Nam.

Johnson invited reporters to his ranch home near here for a full-dress, announced-in-advance news conference — the first of its kind in several months.

It was certain that the prickly Viet Nam dilemma would figure prominently in the questioning. DISCOURAGED SPECULATION

Johnson, who will confer Tuesday in Washington with Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, acted in advance of the news conference to discourage speculation that he plans to order a major expansion of the Vietnamese conflict.

A White House source, who declined to be identified, said Friday the purpose of the Johnson-Taylor meeting "is not to make some horrendous decision."

This individual quite obviously, spoke with the authority and encouragement of the President. It was equally apparent Johnson had been disturbed by published speculation that he might be on the brink of ordering a dramatic expansion of the war effort.

TAYLOR AVOIDS NEWSMEN

The source sought to depict Taylor's current round of Washington conferences as no more dramatic or startling than any of the 12 or 13 similar sessions held during the past year.

Taylor consulted Friday with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. The ambassador, who was slated for more talks at the State Department today, avoided any public statements and avoided newsmen.

It was evident that any final decisions affecting the future course of American policy in Viet Nam would await the Johnson-Taylor meeting. For this reason, Johnson's news conference was awaited for some direct advance hint of the President's attitude.

SEEKS PROPOSALS

In past statements on the subject, Johnson has seemed reluctant to espouse any course that might involve the United States in a major land war in South-east Asia.

Johnson, arguing always that he follows an eight-year-old policy of helping the South Vietnamese help themselves, has said several times that he would welcome any promising proposal to neutralize Viet Nam in peace and freedom. But he has scoffed at the idea that the North Vietnamese Communists would accept any such plan.

Several times, there have been suggestions from official quarters for an extension of the war into North Viet Nam. In the past, Johnson always scored the suggestions and limited himself to what amounted to minor steps in the American effort within South Viet Nam.

Traffic Toll Reaches 321

Deaths on the nation's highways, after a heavy toll on Thanksgiving, appeared to be running near normal today at the halfway point in the extended holiday weekend.

The traffic death toll went over the 300 mark and a possible record high for a four-day Thanksgiving weekend. Since the start of the count at 6 p.m. local time Wednesday, 321 persons have lost their lives in traffic accidents.

The 102-hour period ends at midnight Sunday. The record death toll for the holiday is 543, set in 1963. The National Safety Council records show the average daily toll in the first nine months this year was 126. On Thanksgiving about 150 persons were killed in auto accidents compared to approximately 110 Friday.

Safety experts said the stormy weather in many areas and the return to work of the majority of Americans were major factors in the reduction of fatalities reported Friday. The council did not make a preholiday estimate of traffic deaths for Thanksgiving or for the four-day weekend. It said the period does not involve much extra long-distance travel except for Thanksgiving Day.

GROWERS SEE

Donald Horst, Clair Winand and Nelson Kane of the C. H. Musselman Division of Pet Milk demonstrated the "shaker" being used experimentally in the Musselman orchards for cherries. They reported on new devices and said the one they were showing was "a model T by comparison."

While the self-propelled, self-powered pruning platform are "ready now" to help cut down the number of men needed to carry on the pruning work, the mechanical harvester still seems "about 10 years in the future," according to the discussions.

SEE DWARF TREES

The county now uses several thousand people each year to harvest its fruit crop. With the greatly expanded fruit production of the future when the new trees reach peak production, the demand for help will be even greater unless some mechanical devices can be devised to speed the harvest of the crop, growers pointed out.

Dr. Carl Haeseler, extension pomologist from Pennsylvania State University, was in general charge of the pruning demonstrations. He displayed trees that have been pruned for mechanical harvesting and gave a demonstration on pruning of a young tree for such devices.

Also viewed by the touring fruit-growers were stands of fruit trees of dwarf stock. The smaller trees should be easier to harvest than the standard sized trees, but the growers were cautioned that the use of the dwarf trees is "still experimental" and "it will be some years before we know how they will work out in comparison to standard-sized trees."

Rebel Messages Prompted Move To Send Paratroops To Save Hostages In Congo

By ENDRE MARTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Belgium decided to fly paratroopers to the Congo when intercepted messages strongly indicated that the rebels planned a mass execution of their hostages, diplomatic observers revealed today.

These messages appeared to be far more convincing than the danger was imminent than the threats and bragging of Christophe B. Gbenye, self-styled president of the rebels' "Peoples Republic."

SENT BY GENERAL

The messages were sent by Nicholas Olenka, the rebel general, to his troops. How they were intercepted was not disclosed.

Olenka is — or at least was until now — considered the most dangerous of all rebel leaders. While Gbenye and Gaston Soumialot, the defense minister of the Stanleyville rebel regime, are regarded as political opportunists, Olenka, who controlled whatever armed forces the rebels had, is considered a fanatic.

The idea of joint U.S.-Belgian action was conceived during talks between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Paul-Henri Spaak, the Belgian foreign minister, in Washington Nov. 8 and 9.

FEARED FOR BELGIANS

At that time Spaak still had strong reservations because he was concerned about the fate of the some 40,000 Belgians living in the Congo. He agreed to act, however, when he became convinced two weeks ago that the capture of Kindu, a city some 200 miles south of Stanleyville, by mercenary-led Congolese, had prevented the massacre of about 35 white hostages.

Until October the Belgian government still hoped a peaceful solution of the Congo issue was possible. Three months ago Gbenye was secretly invited to Brussels for talks with Spaak. The Belgian minister also tried to persuade Moïse Tshombe, the Congolese premier, to enlarge his cabinet by including some of his opponents.

LACKED CONTROL
But Tshombe made only token concessions, and while Gbenye was hesitant, it soon became clear that the "president" did not control Olenka's soldiers and could not stop the civil war even if he wanted to.

In the weeks immediately before the decision was made to send in the paratroopers, 30 Belgians were killed, a fact which received little notice by the press outside Belgium. This number compares with the 15 to 16 Belgians killed during the turbulent months in 1960, when the Congolese first rebelled.

DENY TROOP ATROCITIES
The observers stressed that there was complete harmony between Washington and Brussels on the rescue operation.

But now, they added, the Belgians are annoyed by some American dispatches from Leopoldville reporting on atrocities allegedly committed by the paratroopers.

These stories are emphatically denied by Belgian diplomats, and there are hints that such criticism may have played some role in the decision to withdraw the paratroopers this weekend, although many of the hostages are unaccounted for and presumed to be held by the rebels.

12 U. S. FLIERS DIE IN CRASH

KODIAK, Alaska (AP) — Twelve Navy fliers died Friday when an anti-submarine patrol plane crashed into a mountain near the tip of Cape Newenham, 250 miles northwest of Kodiak.

A four-man rescue party found the wreckage of the burned plane and bodies of the crew. The rescuers were led by Maj. Curtiss Gruye, commander of the Cape Newenham distant aircraft control and warning station.

The crash was four miles west of the warning station. The plane hit about 200 feet below the crest of the mountain, 800 feet above the sea.

Gruye said that at the time of the crash visibility at the crash site was about 80 feet. He said radar contact was difficult because the plane was flying near the ground.

Moscow.

Students first tore off the door of the car and carried it away.

Then they threw lighted matches on the upholstery, engulfing the car with flames. Smoke billowed across broad Tchaikovsky Boulevard outside the embassy, snarling traffic.

Students staged a similar demonstration at the Belgian embassy.

RIP THROUGH CORDON

The demonstrators at the U.S. Embassy ripped through a cordon of 100 policemen to hang anti-U.S. slogans on the walls. Two students tried to climb a fence but were hauled down.

"Hands Off the Congo" and "shame to Colonizers" read signs of the demonstrators.

The embassy was tipped off that a possible demonstration would be staged to protest the U.S. role in the Congo rescue mission. Students at the university were reported massing before the march.

Embassy personnel had screens placed behind windows to catch flying glass. One of two gates leading to a rear courtyard was also closed off.

The outbreak was the first against the U.S. Embassy since a demonstration in 1962 during the Cuban missile crisis.

Students from the Lumumba University also smashed embassy windows and splashed the nine-story building with ink in 1961 to protest the Bay of Pigs invasion against Cuba.

APPLY FOR LICENSE

William C. Holtzworth, Gettysburg, and Virginia M. Marsh, York, have filed application for a wedding license in York.

No fewer than six members of Gov. Scranton's cabinet are reported on the verge of leaving voluntarily or of being eased out.

3 TO BE FIRED

Three department heads, the reports say, will be fired under pressure from their political enemies. Scranton's office has denied repeatedly that any top official is in danger of being sacked.

The other three, the stories go, are fed up with state government and want to go elsewhere. Each of the three personally has denied he is planning to leave.

At the risk of being scooped, the names of the six will not be mentioned here, but the reports persist to the exasperation of the Scranton Administration and the principals involved.

OFFICIAL DENIAL

Another rumor currently making the rounds, although it was given birth immediately after the Republican National Convention last July, is that Gov. Scranton and U.S. Sen. Hugh D. Scott are conspiring to give the governor a political base for another try for the presidential nomination in 1968.

According to rumor, which grew so strong that this week Scranton's office made an official denial, Scott who just barely won re-election on Nov. 3, will run for governor in 1968, and, if he wins, will appoint Scranton to his unexpired senatorial term.

That one must be distressing to Lt. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer and several other Republicans who are rumored to be keenly interested in the 1968 gubernatorial nomination. It would tend to sag the trial balloons sent up by or for them.

TWO HOT RUMORS

Two of the hottest rumors involve State Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, Harrisburg Republican defeated in a primary election bid for a 7th four-year term.

One story has it that Taylor, still extraordinarily active at 68, will be named to succeed one of the department heads rumored to be on the way out the door.

More plausible, in view of Scranton's acknowledgment of Taylor's role in passing his legislative program, is a rumor that Taylor will be named a dollar-a-year consultant to the governor and given office space in the executive suite.

MORSE UNDER FIRE

Democratic State Chairman Otis B. Morse just won the most impressive election victory of his four years at the party's helm, but the humor mill has him under fire from some of the state's top Democratic leaders.

Another rumor, which appears to be more in the nature of a trail balloon, is that Sen. Paul L. Wagner, R-Schuylkill, is being considered for the vacant post of Superintendent of Public Instruction should he lose his still undecided re-election bid.

So it goes and will continue to go until the legislative session and the spring primary election campaigns give the rumormongers something else to gnaw on.

Today's Talk

REBELLIOUS PEOPLE

The everlastingly satisfied are not the ones who move the world. Every age and every nation has had its rebellious people — those who looked ahead, had vision, courage and ideas. All through history this has been true. Men who have built nations and helped to make men free have been rebellious men.

The French and American revolutions came about by just such men. Luther, Cromwell, Washington, and others were all rebellious men. In science, art and literature, as well, are examples of those who "kicked over the traces" of well enough, and strode out for new things, new methods, newer and better ways of expression. The great Pasteur was a rebel, until he proved his method of saving life — then he became one of the benefactors of the world!

It is always a healthy sign when people rebel against abuse, dishonesty and inefficiency. It always means that there is something good ahead when a boy, man, or a woman, as well, rebels against conditions that offer no hope, nothing upon which to dream, or nothing from which ideas can take root.

From the smaller towns of a nation is noted the largest migration of folks to larger areas of activity and creative opportunity. A great proportion of the leaders in great movements and businesses have come from small towns. To read your daily newspapers is to read of them — and from communities many of which you never heard before. They have joined the great army of rebellious people against the forces of cruelty and barbarism.

To rebel against any unwholesome condition is to place yourself among the ranks of the initiators and liberators of mankind. It always takes courage to advance in anything. Cherish the knowledge of those who have placed their names as landmarks throughout the pages of history and literature. Be one with them!

INFLUENCE

The little world wherein we dwell
For some is narrow as a cell;
For others, wide as speed can reach
Or power can carry print or speech.

Nor can the sharpest eye define
The bounds between their world
And mine.

This little world wherein we live
To move about; to take and give;
To learn and teach, to dream and hope

And often past our sight to grope
Perhaps is not mere land and sky
Where mortals wait the time to die.

Perhaps—and how shall this
I phrase?—
'Tis heart and soul and friendly ways
And strength and faith in times of doubt

An influence that ripples out
Beyond the shores of self to blend
In hopes and dreams that never end.

Who chooses close to self to dwell
Makes of his world a narrow cell,
But who sets out of use to be
As far as he can hear and see,
Share grief, give aid and carry grace

Lives in immeasurable space.

SAY ARSONIST SET 2 BLAZES

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police say two church fires in Philadelphia Friday were apparently the work of an arsonist who left a not dragging about a similar fire in Boston.

The two fires here caused minor damage in the First Baptist Church and, two hours later, in the Church of the Holy Trinity.

At Holy Trinity, firemen had found a note written on a page torn from the guest registry. It said:

"I'll do what I did in Boston. I'll burn three churches here." Between last Sunday and Tuesday all suspected arson, occurred in four Boston area Protestant churches. In the most serious of the them, the Church of the Covenant suffered $5,000 damage.

"It's the only way to avoid the long wait in the barber shop," Weikert said. "It will help to satisfy the customer, and it will make things easier for me by evening up the work."

Men Of Many Faiths Help Build New St. Augustine House For Lutheran Monk

By KARL MANTYLA
OXFORD, Mich. (AP) —

America's only Lutheran monk has rebuilt his unique outpost of the ecumenical movement.

The Rev. Arthur Kreinheder, founder and sole member of an unusual monastic order, said construction crews completed the building of St. Augustine's House Friday. It replaces a retreat house destroyed by fire in the summer of 1963.

Roman Catholics, Lutherans and other Christians pitched in "as a labor of love" to make the rebuilding possible, Rev. Kreinheder, 59, said.

USE FOR RETREATS

The $35,000 building requires only interior decoration and furnishings to be complete for use in retreats by Lutherans and non-Lutherans who seek brief respites through religious exercises from their bustling normal lives.

"There is only one church of Jesus Christ. We all know this. But we live as if we didn't know it. That's the important thing about his new house. It is a place of meeting for Christians where they can learn to know each other, understand each other and love each other," Rev. Kreinheder said.

SOLE MEMBER

The Rev. Kreinheder, sole member of the Congregation of the Servants of Christ which he founded in 1958, said he seeks reunion of Lutherans and Roman Catholics but knows it "needs a lot of patient labor." Martin Luther left the Catholic Church in the 16th century.

NEED 100 TO SERVE CHURCH

The Rev. D. Perry Bucke, Waynesboro, as chairman of the board of missions of the Methodist Central Pennsylvania Conference, has announced that the Methodist Board of Missions needs 100 young men and women to serve as short term missionaries in U.S. and foreign fields.

New frontiers in the mission of the church call for dedicated, qualified young men and women to serve at home and overseas under the Methodist Church in 1965, Mr. Bucke said. He is a former pastor of the Methodist Church here.

Since fall is the time when college Seniors and other potential special term missionaries begin making decisions for the coming year, the Board of Missions has announced its need for 40 "U.S.-2s" and about 60 "Overseas-3s".

The U.S.-2s will give two years of service in the United States, and the Overseas-3s will serve three years in mission fields on three continents.

In 1965 there is special need and opportunity in Latin America for three-year term missionaries, Mr. Bucke said. Plans are being studied by which small groups of special-termers would be placed in situations where the rapidity of social change calls for new forms of Christian witness.

Qualifications for special term missionaries include: College graduation, age between 21 and 28, good health and emotional stability, conviction of the world's need, religious experience and agreement to remain single during the term of service.

Two Starters Remain On Littlestown Squad; Face 18-Game Schedule

Jim Blocher 5-8 and Louie Orndorff 6-1, Seniors, starters last year, are back on the Littlestown High School varsity squad and form the nucleus around which Coach Jack Bream is building his Thunderbolt basketball squad for the coming campaign.

Blocher was the floor general last year and will be in charge of running the team again this season. Orndorff, who has a good jump shot, was the second leading rebounder a year ago.

Bob Smith, 6-3, Senior, who was injured last year, has shown fine promise in drills and has the potential to be as good a rebounder as Gene Appeler and Eddie Koonitz, now football stars at Catawba College.

The loss of Steve Basehoar, Terry Arbogast and Koonitz will hurt the scoring punch of the Bolts so Coach Bream, starting his eighth year, is concentrating on defense until the offense comes around.

TOP PROSPECTS

Among the candidates impressive to date are Neal Leister, 5-9, Senior, and Bruce Crouse 5-8, Alfie Stover 5-10, and Bob Weaver 5-10, all Juniors.

Rounding out the varsity squad are: John Burgeon 5-8, Terry Poteroff 5-9, and Jeff Rebert 5-10, all Seniors.

The junior varsity squad has 17 candidates and is being coached for the third season by Cliff Ruland.

Members of the squad are: Sophomores, Don Crabbs 5-8, Ron Crabbs 5-8, Carl Gentzler 5-8, John Hanlon, 5-11, Richard Harner 5-8, Tom Harner 5-10, Randy Lehigh 6, Bernie Noble 5-9; Freshmen, Ron Conover 5-4, Ken Good 6-1, Ken Hartscock 6-1, Gary Koonitz 5-10, Frank Nelson 5-10, Bill Pas- to 6-2, Chris Robert 5-9, Robin Weaver 5-3, Craig Zumburn 6.

OPEN AT BIGLERVILLE

Haas guided Gettysburg College to its first MAC grid title in history by posting a 5-1 league slate and a 7-2 overall mark. The Buckle turned back Hofstra, Bucknell, Delaware, Lehigh and Lafayette, but dropped the final outing of the year to Temple.

Governor Carvel of Delaware will make the presentation. Penn State's head football coach Charles A. "Rip" Engle will be the main speaker. Haas will be the only representative from Gettysburg attending the dinner.

PATRIOTS AND OILERS CLASH IN BIG BATTLE

By TED MEIER
Associate dPress Sports Writer

"The Eastern race isn't over yet," Mike Holovak, coach of the Boston Patriots, said of his club's chances as the team left for Houston to battle the Oilers Sunday in the American Football League's top game of the day.

The Patriots, 8-2-1, must whip the Oilers to keep alive their hopes of overhauling the first place Buffalo Bills, 10-1, who edged San Diego 27-24 on Thursday.

"You never can tell what will happen in a football game, particularly in this league," said Holovak. "I still feel we'll finish on top if we win our three remaining games."

LOSE 8 IN ROW

The Oilers, 2-9, have lost eight in a row but Coach Sammy Baugh believes the home field advantage and George Blanda's quarterbacking will stop the Pats. "If we have as good a game as the last time we'll beat them."

He referred to Boston's 25-24 victory over the Oilers at Boston several weeks ago when Gino Cappelletti kicked a 41-yard field goal to win the game with just one second left to play. Kansas City is at New York and Oakland at Denver in two other Sunday games that have no bearing on the race.

The Jets (4-5-1) back home after a two-game road trip hope to end a three-game losing streak against the Chiefs (5-5) by stopping Kansas City's Len Dawson, the league's leading passer.

Oakland (3-7-1) is favored over Denver (2-9) led by Cotton Davidson's passing and the running of Billy Cannon. The Broncos lost 40-7 in the first meeting.

ROYALS SPANK PHILS 76ERS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Oscar Robertson, the Big O in the National Basketball Association, isn't a Wilt Chamberlain from the foul line.

Robertson demonstrated Friday night why his percentage on charity tosses is .785 compared to only .425 for the Big Dipper from San Francisco.

Robertson had 11 free throws and made them all as he led the Cincinnati Royals to an easy 133-112 victory over the Philadelphia 76ers. The Los Angeles Lakers defeated the Detroit Pistons 117-111 in the other NBA game.

Jerry Lucas put Cincinnati in front at the start with two quick baskets. The Royals, with Robertson showing the way with 27 points, steadily widened the gap. Paul Neumann with 18 was high for the 76ers.

Los Angeles won its ninth in the last 11 starts with Jerry West's 33 doing most of the damage. Ray Scott had 33 for the losers.

Cincinnati plays at Boston tonight with St. Louis at New York, Philadelphia at Detroit and Los Angeles at San Francisco.

QUEBEC WHIPS BARONS 4 TO 1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Quebec Aces are rough customers without a handicap—give them a manpower edge and they're murder.

The Aces turned Cleveland penalties into three power play goals Friday night and whipped the Barons 4-1, increasing their Eastern Division lead in the American Hockey League to six points over idle Hershey.

Terry Gray, Cleveland Mortson and Ed Hoekstra scored while the Barons were short-handed and the Aces breezed to their 16th victory in 21 games.

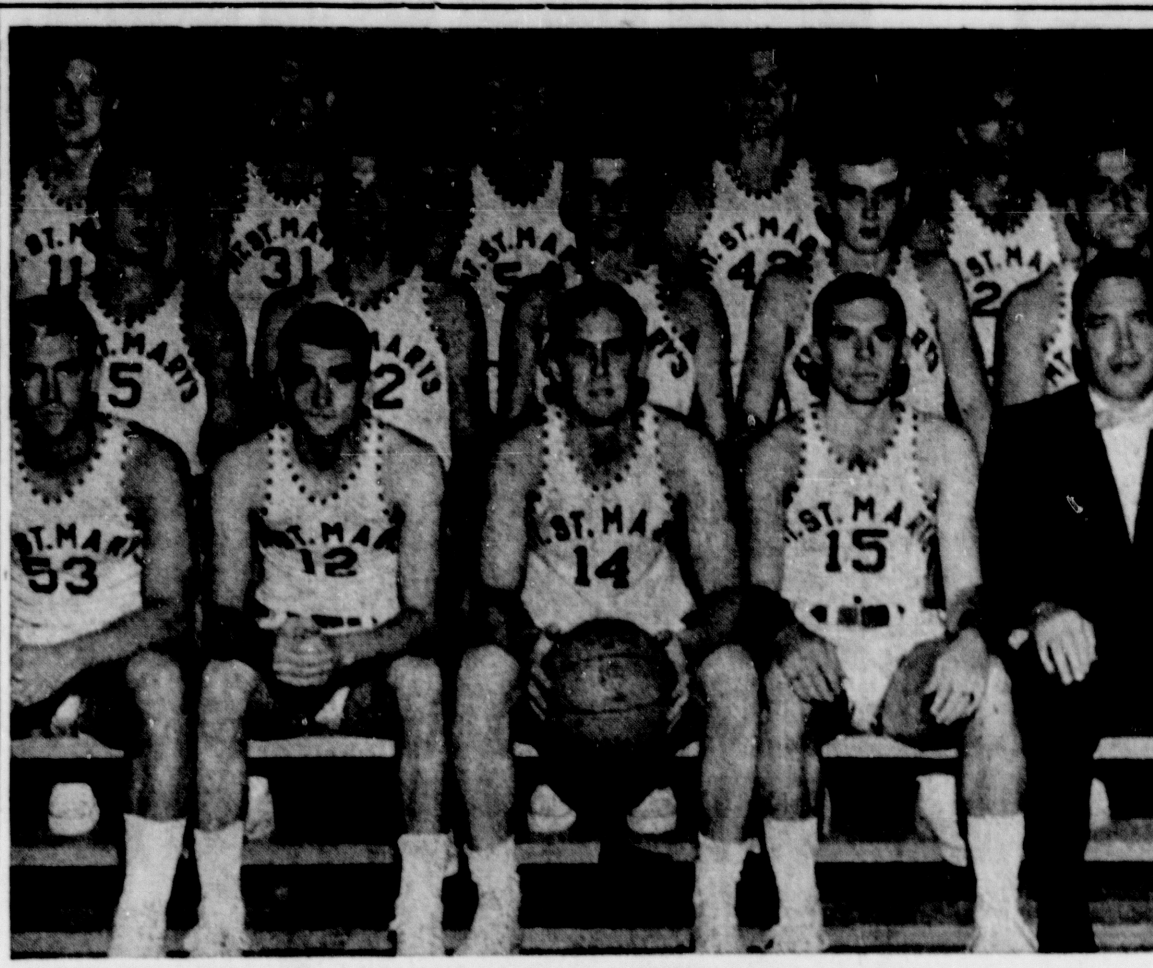

The Baltimore Clippers and Pittsburgh Hornets played to a 3-3 overtime tie in the only other game scheduled.

Gray tipped in a slap shot by AHL scoring leader Wayne Hicks and Mortson caged a rebound of Doug Harvey's shot in the opening period. After Cleveland's Gordon Wilkie connected in the second period, Hoekstra fired a 20-footer past Baron Goalie Guy Morrisette.

Hicks completed the scoring with his 15th goal midway through the last period. He had two assists for a total of 32 points.

Ted Taylor's second-period goal enabled Baltimore to deadlock the Hornets and break a last-place tie with Providence in the East.

Cleveland Eyes Eastern NFL Title Sunday With Win Over Phila. Eagles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When Jim Brown scored his first National Football League touchdown in 1957, the Cleveland Browns were on the way to their seventh Eastern Conference championship in eight tries.

Sunday, Cleveland hopes to nail its first division crown since Brown's rookie year while the great fullback shoots for an all-time touchdown mark. The Browns can clinch the Eastern title and a championship playoff date with Baltimore by beating the Philadelphia Eagles if the St. Louis Cardinals fail to end a 13-year jinx at Pittsburgh.

Meanwhile, the Colts, who clinched the Western Conference title last Sunday, risk their 10-game winning streak against the San Francisco 49ers. New York-Washington, Green Bay-Dallas and Minnesota-Los Angeles pairings complete the schedule.

The Browns, whose championship drive was stalled by Green Bay last week, will be at full strength for their final home game. If the Eagles reverse an earlier loss to Cleveland, next week's Browns-Cardinals game could decide the Eastern race.

Jimmy Brown's next touchdown will be his 105th, tying Don Hutson's career record. The former Green Bay star established the mark in 11 seasons.

Another Brown, Philadelphia's Timmy, has recovered from a series of injuries and could hurt Cleveland if he is close to 1963 form. The Eagle speedster gained more than 2,000 yards running, receiving passes and returning kicks last season.

The Cardinals beat the Steelers at St. Louis earlier this season but haven't won at Pittsburgh since 1948. Joe Childress, Prestice Gautt and Billy Gambrell are injured and may be missing from the Cardinal backfield. A St. Louis victory and Cleveland defeat would leave the Browns at 8-3-1 and the Cardinals at 7-3-2.

San Francisco has lost quarterback George Mira for the season with a dislocated shoulder, but is counting on veteran John Brodie and a Baltimore

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Maybe Slippery Rock was killed by kindness.

The Rockets came to Southern California for their Rose Bowl debut a sentimental favorite over Los Angeles State College.

But they left the game Friday night a saddened but wiser 62-6 loser to a Diablo blitz witnessed by 15,836 fans — many of whom wistfully visioned a Slippery Rock Victory celebration.

But the writing was on the wall.

Another team might have suspected something was afoot to invade hostile territory and find a welcoming committee waiting to whisk them off to City Hall and a subsequent "Slippery Rock Day in Southern California" proclamation.

Already lured into a feeling of security, suburban Alhambra citizens then invited them into their homes for a Thanksgiving dinner. Fattening the turkey, no doubt.

But then came the real promise win, lose or draw, the Rockets would visit Disneyland. Even then-Soviet Premier Khrushchev wasn't given that supreme compliment when he visited Los Angeles.

Finally, game time. A special Slippery Rock section formed an arch to welcome their adopted team on the field. Sixty-foot-ball minutes later, they could well have carried them off. But all was not lost. Today the Rockets tour Disneyland.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Race driver Bobby Marshman, 28, of Pottstown, Pa., was in extremely critical condition today with burns over 85 to 90 percent of his body.

The nine-year racing veteran, who placed 13th in Sunday's 200-mile Bobby Ball Memorial Race at Phoenix Raceway, crashed into the track wall Friday during a practice run.

Witnesses estimated Marshman hit the west retaining wall at about 148 miles per hour. Marshman was sprayed with flaming gasoline as the car exploded.

Bermudian Springs opened its basketball season auspiciously Friday evening by nipping Northern at Dillsburg 59-56 after a seesaw battle.

The Eagles, trailing 43-37 at the end of the third quarter, roared back with 22 tallies in the last period to snatch the verdict.

Northern took a 14-11 lead at half-time while Bermudian swept back for a 28-26 edge at intermission.

Both teams encountered poor evenings from the foul line. Bermudian converted but 11 of 34 tries while Northern made only 20 of 43.

Tom Myers and Parker Lerew were the big point producers for the winners with 20 and 10 points, respectively. Eric Grove of the Polar Bears sank 24.

Bermudian will meet Biglerville Tuesday evening at York Springs.

Stock Car Title Is Up On Sunday

HANFORD, Calif. (AP) — The national stock car driving championship of the United States Automobile Club is on the line Sunday in the Billy Vukovich Memorial 200-mile race at Hanford.

Parnelli Jones, currently leading in point standings, and runner-up Norm Nelson head the drivers who will vie for $15,000 prize money.

Nelson, of Racine, Wis., must finish first or second for any chance of overtaking Jones in the point standings. But an eight-place finish would give the Torrance, Calif., driver the championship no matter where Nelson finishes.

They will get stiff competition from Indianapolis 500 champ A. J. Foyt and 1963 stock car champion Don White.

Convention Will Stress Pesticides, Marketing For Vegetable Growers

THOMAS E. PIPER

Adams County Farm Agent

Adams County vegetable growers are reminded that the 56th annual convention of the Vegetable Growers' Association of America will be held in Cincinnati, O., on December 7-10, 1964.

Speakers from the United States Department of Agriculture will highlight the meeting, bringing the latest information on the pesticide situation, marketing and research.

A new feature to be added to the convention will be a fast-moving program of ideas and gimmicks invented and developed by growers. This part of the program will be moderated by Richard T. Meister, editor of the American Vegetable Grower magazine.

Dr. R. S. Howlett, program chairman, emphasizes that a panel discussion on "Vegetable Growers in a Changing Market" with representatives from all facets of the marketing field participating, should be a highlight of the convention.

Another panel during the meeting will deal with the subject, "How Can We Do a Better Marketing Job?" Again, specialists and successful growers will participate. Make your reservations early.

DAIRY HEIFER CARE

Future dairy herds depend on the present heifer raising program. Pennsylvania DHIA records show that within a breed, the larger two-year-olds outproduce the undersized ones. To have animals well grown at freshening time it is necessary to start to feed and manage them properly as soon as they are born.

Adequate nutrients to meet their growing needs must be furnished each day throughout the first two years of a heifer's life. Otherwise they can't be expected to repay dairymen with their inherited producing ability when they come into production. Most dairymen do a good job of feeding calves up to four months of age. Beyond this age, however, they often expect to get most or all of their nutrients from forage. If they are fed top quality forage, they can make normal growth with little or no grain. If the hay is fair or poor quality, it is far better to feed the calves and heifers enough grain to keep them growing than to let them fall behind normal growth rate. This may require as much as four to six pounds of a 16 per cent grain mixture per day. Heifers and calves should be fed the best hay available. The mature animal can utilize poor roughage better than young stock because of their more highly developed rumen.

However, feed alone won't insure big, healthy two-year-old heifers. They must be kept healthy and comfortable if the most growth is expected from them. Cleanliness and good sanitation is necessary in raising young stock. Dirty, crowded, poorly ventilated pens make ideal places for parasites and diseases to develop and spread. Dairymen should help their heifers make normal growth, so they will help make them more successful dairymen in the future.

STEERS NEED VITAMINS

Like most other things, steer feeding recommendations are changing very rapidly. Just a few years back specialists thought a beef animal could manufacture its own vitamins if the basic ingredients were fed in the ration.

Recent research indicates this is not true. The most limiting vitamin appears to be vitamin A. Carotene or previtamin A appears naturally in many feeds like yellow corn, hays or silage. However, the steer does not seem to be able to turn the carotene into vitamin A at a sufficient rate to meet his needs.

The addition of 20,000 international units of vitamin A to each steer's ration per day has often resulted in five to 10 per cent increased gains. This additional vitamin A should be included in the protein supplement feed.

Fortunately, vitamin A can be synthesized or manufactured very reasonably. It costs less than a cent a day to supply the steer's needs. This is a very reasonable cost for something that can make this return.

When ordering protein supplement, make sure it contains sufficient vitamin A. If you plan to feed two pounds per day, the supplement should contain 20 mil-

Man Is Crushed By His Own Truck

OLEY, Pa. (AP)—A tragically connected set of circumstances brought death Friday night to Jonas B. Fitzgerald, 69, of Oley R. D. 1.

State Police, reconstructing the accident from the accounts of witnesses, said that Fitzgerald's dump truck apparently had engine trouble while climbing a grade.

It rolled backward and went over an embankment, throwing Fitzgerald out. Rolling ahead of the truck, Fitzgerald landed at the base of a tree.

As he lay there, the truck knocked over the tree like a giant mousetrap, crushing Fitzgerald.

TOW SEVERED BOW OF TANKER TO ANCHORAGE

NEW YORK (AP)—A tug towed the severed bow of the tanker Stolt Dagali to Gravesend Bay today. Sixteen of her crew returned home to Norway by air. And damage to the Israeli liner Shalom, which knifed into the tanker, was being assessed.

The Norwegian tanker's bow section was placed in anchorage in the Brooklyn Bay early this morning.

Still a mystery were details of the collision between the two ships early Thanksgiving Day in dense fog off the New Jersey coast. Nineteen crewmen from the tanker died.

The captains were under orders not to discuss the collision, which was in international waters, and thus beyond the jurisdiction of the U.S. Coast Guard.

Not known were the speed of the vessels, their courses, whether evasive action was taken, how radar was used and whether whistle signals were sounded or heard.

Norway and Israel were considering setting up an international board of inquiry to investigate the accident and assess damages.

The Shalom, one of the world's most modern liners, knifed into the smaller tanker, severing her stern section where most of the crew's quarters were.

The Coast Guard and Navy and the Shalom rescued 24 of the crew from lifeboats and from the bow section.

TIME NOW TO ORDER TREES

Farmers of Adams County are being reminded that now is the time to plan for tree planting to be done in the spring of 1965. As in past years, the Glatfelter Pulp Wood Company of Spring Grove, will again furnish free tree seedlings to any interested and qualified landowner. Since the inception in 1951 of this company program, more than seven million seedlings have been furnished to landowners in 13 southern Pennsylvania counties.

Tree species available this year under the program are white pine, Austrian pine, Banks pine, pitch pine, Norway spruce, white spruce, Japanese larch, European larch and Virginia pine. Orders are filled on a first-come basis so it is important to get your order in early to assure receiving the species you want. All trees are purchased by the

Arthritics Require Proper Diet To Combat Discomfort

Persons with arthritis may find a good diet can affect the way they feel, how they respond to medical treatment and how successfully they can resist the pain and discomforts that accompany the disease.

A nutritionally balanced diet, eaten regularly, benefits the overall health of the arthritic and helps improve his resistance to the wear and tear of arthritis.

There is no special arthritic diet. However, adjustments in the normal diet may be needed, depending on the type arthritis a person has and the treatment his physician prescribes.

Every day an arthritic person needs foods from each of the four food groups. Need for milk is two eight-ounce glasses or the calcium equivalent of milk in other dairy foods such as cheese or ice cream; two servings of meat, poultry, fish or eggs; four servings of fruits and vegetables, including one serving every day of an ascorbic acid-rich food and one serving every other day of a vitamin A-rich food, and four servings of enriched or whole grain breads and cereals.

Maintaining a good weight level is important to a person with arthritis.

Spending habits can become as stale as last week's bread or as out-of-season as summer fashions on a ski trail.

Products and services change, family situations change and many home jobs become mechanized.

Glatfelter Company from the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Water. The company imposes no restrictions of any kind, but the landowner planting the seedlings must comply with normal state regulations regarding these trees. That is, they may not be used for Christmas trees, decorative purposes or for windbreaks. All trees are the property of the landowner and he may cut them at a future date for any wood products he desires.

A landowner who is planning to plant trees in 1965 and wishes to receive free tree seedlings may obtain information about placing order from the county agent, County Soil Conservation District office or may write directly to the Glatfelter Pulp Wood Company, Spring Grove. All necessary information and order blanks will be mailed.

Household equipment has come more automatic and costs more to buy and operate than the hand tools formerly used. Under these conditions, consumers may find it helpful to re-evaluate their household equipment buying habits. Consumers also must find a solution to how much of their income to spend for current living expenses and how much to invest for future financial security. Again, individuals or families must consider the goals they have set for themselves.

Consumers also must try to help solve such problems as how much public money to use for recreation areas, public schools, higher education and roads. To make this choice, intelligent consumers will ask "Why should be spend money in each of these areas?" or "What do we, as a community, wish to accomplish?"

Consumers who continually question why they are spending money for certain goods and services and not for others may find they are getting more satisfaction for both their public and private dollars.

Stanleyville Continues Under Snipers' Bullets As Troops Chase Rebels

By KENNETH L. WHITING
LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Snipers' bullets still whistled through Stanleyville today as government troops pushed across the Congo River after the main rebel force.

"Stanleyville is under control, but all resistance has not been eliminated," said an American Embassy spokesman.

"The city is virtually deserted. The Congolese have fled to the bush. But snipers are still active and you can easily get a bullet through your head."

Since the U.S.-Belgian airborne operation began Tuesday, at least 59 foreigners including three Americans have been slain by the Peking-backed rebels. The paratroopers rescued about 1,600 white hostages in Stanleyville and Paulis.

In Paulis, which was seized Thursday by Belgian paratroopers, about 100 whites awaited evacuation on U.S. C-130s. At least 170 foreigners were brought here from Paulis Thursday.

Belgian paratroopers were scouring an 18-mile radius around Paulis for other foreigners.

The U.S. spokesman said the evacuation of refugees from Stanleyville has been completed. The American planes brought a total of 1,070 refugees from Stanleyville and Paulis. Congolese and other aircraft have airlifted hundreds of others from the rebel zone.

The embassy said five Americans remained in rebel-controlled areas. They are Miss A. Chansler, who is believed to be about 18 miles from Paulis in the village of Egbita; W. McChesney, last reported in Wamba, and Mrs. F. J. Cunningham and her two children in Titule. All are connected with the Heart of Africa Mission of Fort Washington, Pa.

OTHERS MISSING
Other reports said several hundred whites of other nationalities were still missing in the northern Congo, and the Belgian paratroopers were planning other rescue missions before leaving the country this weekend.

Reliable reports said the paratroopers might drop at Bunia, on the eastern frontier, or Watsa, to the northeast, to save whites there from massacre at the hands of the rebels.

South of Stanleyville, rebels recaptured the tin mining town of Punia, taken last week by the government troops on their march toward Stanleyville.

SHIP COLLISION HURLED SAILOR INTO COLD SEA

By RICHARD F. WHALEN
NEW YORK (AP) — A rending crash split the tanker Aadvik Olsen, who had been asleep in his bunk, suddenly found himself swimming for life in the cold Atlantic.

A jolting shudder shook the liner Shalom. It knocked passengers to the dance floor.

"I heard a grinding sound," said Samuel Gerson of the Wynnefield section of Philadelphia. "I thought we might have hit a big whale or something. I never thought it would be another ship."

"I was sleeping," said Mrs. Shelley Mangel of Philadelphia. "I heard the jolt. I jumped up and looked out the porthole. I saw the sinking ship. Water was all over it. It looked like a submarine. I looked but I couldn't see anyone around, either in the ship or in the water. Then, I went back to bed."

DANCERS DOWNED
"I was dancing with my wife, Barbara," said Stephen Tannenbaum, a New York City pharmacist. "We were knocked to the floor. We got up and a crewman told us not to worry."

He said Shalom passengers in party dress or nightclothes began thronging to the outside decks. They were not aware that in the dark waters of the Atlantic Ocean, more than a score of Norwegian seamen were battling for their lives.

Their ship, the Stolt Dagali, had been sliced in two by the prow of the Shalom in early morning darkness and dense fog Thursday.

Olsen, 19, said he suddenly found himself in the water in his underwear. "Before I was picked up by a rowboat and then rescued by a helicopter."

On the Shalom, some passengers slept, some went back to their dancing and some stood on deck. Stewards told many to put on life jackets.

The ship, after lowering lifeboats, left the crash scene off the New Jersey coast to return to New York City. A 40-foot gash in her bow made navigation difficult.

Roger Elkarief, a Shalom deck steward, said:

"All passengers and crew were alerted and they began to show up on the decks, but there was no panic at all."

"The bars were opened and music began to play and many people danced until 4 o'clock in the morning (nearly two hours after the collision)."

SUSPENDS PUBLICATION
PARIS (AP) — The newspaper Liberation, begun 23 years ago as an organ of the resistance to Nazi occupation, suspended publication today.

The Communist-line paper said the decision was made for financial reasons. Publisher Emmanuel D'Astier has sometimes been at odds with party policy.

Prepares Meal For Hubby In Jail

SOMERVILLE, Mass. (AP) — Reginald F. Carpenter Jr., 25, a maintenance man who surrendered to police and admitted a $2,476 bank robbery, had one thing to be thankful for — the Thanksgiving Day dinner he ate in jail was prepared by his wife.

Carpenter told police he robbed the Somerset Savings Bank Wednesday because bills were piling up and his car was about to be repossessed. But, he said, when he told his wife, Theresa, 23, that night, she urged him to telephone a friend who is a Boston detective. Carpenter did and the officer notified local police.

After he was jailed Carpenter asked if he could go home for Thanksgiving dinner. The answer was no, but police brought him his home-cooked turkey dinner and let his wife visit him. Carpenter faces arraignment today in District Court.

PHONE TOLLS CUT FOR LD

WASHINGTON — The Federal Communications Commission has ordered the Bell Telephone companies to reduce long-distance rates to save subscribers approximately $100,000,000 annually.

The reductions will also apply to United Telephone Co., local District Manager A. M. Eckert said today.

The new tariffs will go into effect in two stages beginning next February.

Under the new schedule, a 3-minute station-to-station call from Washington to the West Coast from 8 p.m. to 4:30 a.m. daily and all day Sunday will cost $1, compared with the $1.75 rate now in effect.

Additional cuts will become effective April 1, and will be designated to provide lower rates for various users, particularly small businesses, professions and others, the FCC reported. The details of the cut still are under consideration.

Soldiers Search Streets For Rebels

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Federal soldiers searched today through the interior city of Goiania for more than 100 persons accused of involvement in a Communist-backed plot against the Brazilian government.

Army Col. Carlos Meira Mattos Thursday led the troops into Goiania, capital of Goias State, and deposed Gov. Maruro Borges. The war ministry said he was the center of a "subversive focal point." Mattos was named temporary administrator.

The Brazilian Congress has 60 days in which to ratify the action or Borges will be restored to office.

Secret Service To Expand Protection

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Secret Service will expand its machinery for presidential protection significantly in the next few months, adding 75 agents, clerks and technical personnel as the first step.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said "the basic emphasis will be on more effective advance and preventive work by the service in connection with presidential travel, as well as the use of more sophisticated equipment."

The Secret Service is under the Treasury Department. In announcing the plans today, Dillon said the hiring of 75 additional persons would cost approximately $650,000.

NEW EYE TEST GIVES ADVANCE SICK WARNING

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — By shining a flickering light into peoples' eyes, a specialist is detecting illnesses before they show any symptoms.

The tests, given at Wills Eye Hospital, find not only eye disorders, but circulatory trouble, tobacco poisoning, allergies, nervous ailments.

The technique, which was developed by Dr. Melvin W. Thornton when he was at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital, is called flicker fusion.

The basic principle has been used for some time to check the revolutions per minute of phonograph turntables, and has applications to the eye that are arousing wide interest.

Miss Mildred Berk, who worked with Thornton at Penn. now serves under the supervision of Dr. Nathan Schelinger, head of neuro-ophthalmology at Wills Eye Hospital and professor of neurology at Jefferson Medical College.

RATE OF FLASHES

Miss Berk explained today that the number of flashes per second that a human eye can bounce back varies with age, but, allowing for that factor, variations from normal tell a great deal about what's going on in the body.

For example, Miss Berk said, it has been observed that victims of multiple sclerosis cannot bounce back as many flashes as can other people of the same age.

What this means has not yet been determined, she continued, adding: "Nobody is saying yet that flicker fusion is a valid diagnosis of the muscle disease of which causes and treatments are still largely unknown."

She noted, however, that the National Multiple Sclerosis Society is underwriting the research. It contributed $2,500 for equipment last year.

URGES HOLD-UP ON ARMS PACT

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Argentina urged other Latin-American nations Thursday not to rush into a ban on nuclear weapons until several questions are cleared up — including the extent of Cuba's possession of such arms.

"Cuba is a geographic, physical and political reality that we should not overlook," said the Argentinean delegate, Silvano Santander, at a meeting of Latin American nations.

"Were Soviet (missiles) really retired from Cuba in 1962?" Santander asked, adding that Prime Minister Fidel Castro said only a few days ago that "the nuclear arms now will be handled by Cuban hands."

DRIVER SHOTS PEDESTRIAN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police say a motorist wounded a man who yelled at him and a eight-year-old boy playing nearby. Police are still searching for the motorist.

Detectives said Thursday that John Whitney, 38, yelled at a down.

The detectives said the motorist stopped, cursed at Whitney, and then opened fire, hitting Whitney three times. A fourth shot grazed Ronald Thomas, playing about 40 feet away.

Whitney was taken to Women's Medical College Hospital where his condition was serious. He was hit twice in the abdomen and once in the right shoulder. Thomas was detained in St. Luke's and Children's Medical Center.

The Religious Society of Friends, commonly called Quakers, was started in 1652 by the Englishman, George Fox.

Name Stadium U. S. Landmark

WASHINGTON (AP) — The North Stands of Chicago University's Stagg Field, scene of this country's first nuclear chain reaction, will be designated as a national historic landmark.

The citation will be made Dec. 2 by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall.

That date will mark the 22nd anniversary of the time in 1942 when a team of scientists obtained the first such chain reaction in facilities located underneath the stadium's North Stands.

The announcement was made through the office of Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill.

3 KILLED IN HOLIDAY CRASH

McCONNELLSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Two men and a boy were killed in a tragic Thanksgiving Day auto mishap four miles west of here on the Breezy Point Road.

State Police identified the dead as Bobby L. Strait, 37, of Harrisville, and Carl K. Urban, 27, and Jere Souders, 12, both of McConnellsburg.

The accident occurred three-quarters of a mile north of Route 30 when a northbound car driven by Strait collided head-on with a car in which four McConnellsburg residents were riding, troopers said.

Hospitalized in critical condition at Fulton County Medical Center here were William Zeger, 21, and Gary Gress, 17, both suffered multiple injuries.

State Police said they were not certain who was driving the southbound car. There were apparently no witnesses to the crash.

LIFTS BAN ON CAMPFIRE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Seranton Friday lifted the ban against smoking and campfires in woods throughout the state.

The action lifts the ban in the 47 counties in which it was still in effect.

The prohibition had been lifted Monday in 20 western Pennsylvania counties.

In a proclamation announcing the action, which had been instituted three weeks ago to lessen the danger of fires in the state's drought-stricken woods, the governor said:

"With the rainfall of more than one inch (Wednesday and Thursday) in most of the recording stations of the state, the extreme fire hazard which has existed almost continuously since July has been alleviated."

Rescued Consul Says He'd Return To Congo

PLANS TO FIGHT NEIGHBORS TO KEEP PET LION

WILLOW GROVE, Pa. (AP) — Howard Sautter made it positive today: He's going to fight to keep his lion in his own back yard.

Sautter, a garage owner, originally said he would bow to last month's order of the Abington Township commissioners and get rid of Leo, his pet. Neighbors had complained of the roaring and said the animal frightened them.

The commissioners cited Leo as a nuisance.

Sautter said then he would find a new home for the lion. Many offers reportedly came in.

UNDERGOES SURGERY
This week Sautter decided against it. He took Leo to the University of Pennsylvania Veterinary Hospital in nearby Philadelphia where surgery was performed in an attempt to stifle the roar.

After coming out of the anesthesia Leo opened his mouth — and roared. About as loud as ever.

Sautter felt the sound — he calls it Leo's mating roar — would diminish in time, and Dr. Daniel B. Bleicher, a veterinarian who treats Leo, said the operation should make him more docile.

"I had him for two years, and the Police Department has not had one complaint," Sautter said. "Everyone around here knew I had him all that time. They will have to prove he is a nuisance."

HARMLESS PET
The township commissioners aren't budging.

"I still feel Willow Grove is no place for a big lion," said John E. Gibson, chairman of the Public Safety Committee.

Leo isn't really a ferocious beast of the jungle. As a cub he developed rickets, which stunted his growth and makes him more crippled than catlike. He is kept chained and rides around in Sautter's truck when his master goes out on business calls.

William D. Clarke Jr., another commissioner, said he feels the township should give Sautter a time limit — say 10 days — to get rid of Leo. This decision may be made next Monday.

The former British protectorate of Northern Rhodesia became a nation Oct. 24, 1964, with the new name of Zambia.

The U.S. issued 1,055,504 passports in 1963.

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Consul Michael Hoyt, for three months a prisoner of Congolese rebels at Stanleyville, says he "very definitely" would be willing to return to the Congo.

Hoyt and four other members of the U.S. Consulate staff in Stanleyville were rescued earlier this week as part of a U.S.-Belgian paratrooper operation that plucked hundreds of whites from the midst of rebels who were preparing to execute them.

The five arrived in Washington Thursday after a flight by military transport. They were greeted by Wayne Fredericks, deputy assistant secretary of state, and a small crowd of well-wishers.

DOUBTED THEY'D LIVE

Hoyt said the Congo insurgents first put him under house arrest at the U.S. Consulate but later confined him in a prison with no bed and poor sanitation.

When word came to the rebels that land forces of the central Congolese government were approaching Stanleyville, Hoyt said, they prepared to execute the whites they were holding as hostages.

"Certainly we had many doubts that we would get home alive," he said, adding that the swiftness of the joint rescue operation saved him and most of the other hostages.

OTHERS KILLED

Others of the hostages, including at least two Americans, were killed as the rebels herded the hostages into Stanleyville's Lumumba Square and started firing at them.

Hoyt and his four aides — Vice Consul David K. Grinwis of Maplewood, N.J.; communications officer Donald Parkes; and communications clerks Ernest Hule and James E. Stauffer — landed first at New York's Kennedy Airport before proceeding to Washington.

Hoyt was greeted in New York by his wife, Joy, of Tucson, Ariz., who rushed up to him and embraced him.

MOST ANXIOUS MOMENT

"I feel fine," he said. "It is wonderful to be back. I'm glad to be reunited with my wife on this Thanksgiving Day."

He said his most anxious moment was "when they started firing at us."

Upon his arrival here, Hoyt was asked if he would accept assignment to the Congo again. "Oh yes — I very definitely would go back," he said.

After reporting to the State Department today, Hoyt plans several weeks of rest with his family.

Medal Of Honor Winner In Viet Nam Continued Fighting Despite Wounds

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP) — The first veteran of Viet Nam to be recommended for the Medal of Honor kept on fighting although twice wounded during a Communist night assault and stopped for first aid only when warned he might die from loss of blood.

The heroism of Capt. Roger Hugh Donlon, 30, of Saugerties, N.Y., was described Friday by Lt. Julian M. Olejniczak at the Army's special forces center at Ft. Bragg, Donlon was on leave.

Lt. Olejniczak was with Donlon when the Viet Cong tried to overrun their jungle outpost. He said Donlon kept moving about "when raising your head was like suicide."

"MIGHT DIE"

"He stopped for treatment only when he was warned that he might die from loss of blood," Olejniczak recalled. "By that time reinforcements had arrived."

The barrage of mortar and machinegun fire broke the jungle silence July 6 about 2:30 a.m. Two American soldiers and at least 55 Communist guerrillas died in the ensuing battle.

Olejniczak, executive officer at the camp at Don Dong, said he and Sgt. Gabriel Alamo were with Spec. 5 Michael Disser at his mortar position near the heaviest action. Alamo was killed there.

He said Capt. Donlon and two other U.S. military advisors returned to the mortar pit "in time to save us from certain death."

"ALL WOUNDED"

"We were all wounded, and the Viet Cong were still coming in. We fired into the enemy flank, killed 20 to 30. Disser and I couldn't walk, so we crawled out to a nearby trench."

Capt. Donlon told Olejniczak to cover him from the trench while he went back to the mortar pit to see whether he could help the two mortally wounded men. Sgt. John Houston was the other American killed there.

"He couldn't help them, but he brought back a recoilless rifle and was wounded again," Olejniczak said. "He had been hit earlier in the fight and then he again exposed himself to search for a radio."

"He found one and began directing the planes. In time the Viet Cong had enough and the attack began to diminish."

UNION SEEKS FULL PENSION

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Officials of a railroad union due for contract talks with Red Arrow Lines say they will ask the transit firm to fully fund a pension plan covering 82 of its 375 operating employees.

The 82 formerly worked for Southern Pennsylvania Bus Co., acquired in 1960 by Red Arrow's parent firm, Philadelphia Suburban Transportation Co.

Philadelphia suburban employees were covered by a fully funded pension plan. The former Southern employees' plan was not funded and is paid from Red Arrow assets.

James Dilks, president of the Lodge 998 of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said the union wants to protest the rights of the 82 employees, in the event Red Arrow is sold to a transit authority.

The current contract between the union and Red Arrow expires Jan. 29.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — State Secretary of Welfare Arlin M. Adams is unopposed as candidate for vice chancellor of the Philadelphia Bar Association, following the withdrawal of S. Regen Ginsberg from the contest.

Ginsburg, nominated by petition, had run unsuccessfully last year. Adams is the choice of the association's nominating committee.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

25 FRIENDS TO GET $12 MILLION

CHICAGO (AP) — A Chicago judge has granted a 78-year-old investor's wish to distribute about half of his $12 million dollar fortune among 25 friends and business associates that "I may see them enjoy it."

Lawrence L. Goddard, a retired head clerk for an insurance company, pointedly omitted a daughter, a niece and a nephew from his largesse and assured Circuit Judge Daniel A. Covelli Friday he knows what he is doing.

Goddard, from a wheelchair, told the judge he wanted to repay his friends for "kindnesses accorded the donor." He said he had not received the same kindnesses from his daughter, Florence; a niece, Margaret L., and a nephew, Leland. Goddard did not elaborate.

Goddard assured Judge Covelli that he'll manage quite comfortably on the $21,000 annual income from the stock he retains.

Find Body Of Man Dead Since 1963

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — It was Thanksgiving Day, and they had not heard from their elder brother, 61-year-old Jacob Rebold, in quite a while, so Mac and Solomon Rebold of Brooklyn, N.Y., decided to pay him a surprise visit.

But Jacob did not answer the door and the brothers, accompanied by Max's three young sons, hesitated to break in.

Friday, joined by Patrolman Frank Bass, they entered the house where Rebold, a bachelor, lived alone, and broke into a bedroom.

On the floor was a skeleton. City authorities said it apparently was that of Jacob Rebold. Investigation, and a stack of some 500 pieces of unopened mail, indicated he had probably died in the summer of 1963.

DRAFT CALL DOWN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The January draft call for the Army is for 5,400 men. That's down from the December call of 7,800 men and brings to 3,010,350 the total of men drafted since September 1950.

People In The News

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP) — Caroline Kennedy, daughter of the late president, celebrated her seventh birthday Friday at a small party at her family's country home on Long Island Sound. Several cousins attended.

WASHINGTON (AP) — J. Edgar Hoover is quoted as saying that his recent news conference may have been his last.

The FBI chief was highly critical of Dr. Martin Luther King at the extraordinary news conference Nov. 18.

"I'm going to get writer's cramp from answering all those messages," Hoover said, according to Betty Beale, staff writer for the Washington Evening Star.

She said Friday he told her at a party that he enjoyed the news conference with women reporters. "But I think it will be my last," he was quoted as having said.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Alex Quaison-Sackey, Ghana's ambassador to the United Nations, is assured the presidency of the U.N. General Assembly session opening Tuesday.

The African group of 33 delegations unanimously chose him Friday night. This is Africa's turn in the presidency.

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev is living near Moscow and "beginning to do what he always planned to do when he retired," says Sergei Mikoyan. He is a son of Anastas Mikoyan, president of the Soviet Union.

He said Friday that Khrushchev, ousted Soviet premier, spends a lot of time hunting. "He's in fine shape," he said.

Mikoyan, 36, spent Thanksgiving Day at the farm home of industrialist Cyrus Eaton, near Akron.

RABBIS PRAISE CATHOLIC VOTE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia rabbis have hailed the declaration of the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council condemning anti-Semitism and absolving the Jewish people of the blame for the death of Jesus.

Rabbi Martin Berkowitz, president of the Board of Rabbis of Greater Philadelphia, called the decision "history-making." He added that "as Americans we are especially pleased that it was American prelates who stood in the vanguard of the progressive forces which brought about this change."

In a joint statement, Robert K. Greenfield, president of the Jewish Community Relations Council of Greater Philadelphia, and Sydney Orloffsky, chairman of the JCRC's Committee on Religious Freedom and Inter-Religious Relationships, called it a "historic action of the greatest magnitude."

Employment Up In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Daniel L. Littley, Philadelphia district manager of the State Employment Service, says that employment reached an all-time high of 1,795,600 in the Philadelphia area during October. He said that it's expected to pass 1,800,000 before the end of the year.

Littley said Friday although manufacturing firms dropped 3,600 workers in October, the overall climb in employment was sparked by service establishments, retail trade and local government because of school expansion.

NEW YORK (AP) — Ketti Frings, who won the Pulitzer Prize with her stage adaptation of "Look Homeward, Angel" is going to work on a play version of Elizabeth Janeway's recent novel, "Accident."

The story, which concerns a near-fatal automobile mishap, involves four characters. No production schedule has been announced.

4 ESCAPEES ARE CAPTURED

COLFAX, Wash. (AP) — Four of the seven escape artists who tunneled out of Washington State Penitentiary Sunday have been recaptured — two of them in Idaho, one in Oregon and one in Washington.

Arthur St. Peter, 39, of Seattle, serving a sentence as an habitual criminal at the Walla Walla institution, was apprehended late Friday while dozing in a stolen truck near this eastern Washington town.

Colfax is about 70 miles north-east of Walla Walla, but St. Peter is known to have driven to the Portland, Ore., area, about 200 miles west of Walla Walla, with the other convicts after their escape.

Neil C. Wallen, 28, a convicted murderer from Spokane, Wash., was arrested earlier Friday at a Portland hotel after police received a telephoned tip. A man believed to be escapee Donald Maseros, 24, also a convicted killer, fled.

Harold Oscar Thomas, 40, and Richard Eugene Loux, 29, were arrested at a roadblock near Payette, Idaho, Tuesday night and are being held in Caldwell, Idaho, pending removal hearings. Two men ran from the escapees' car and got away.

Still missing are Maseros, John J. Mullenix, 33, and Vertis James Barrett, 35.

Bonsai To Meet With Cambodians

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will talk over its differences with Cambodia at a meeting in New Delhi Dec. 7.

Philip W. Bonsai from the State Department policy planning staff is being sent to India to represent the United States in the talks.

Cambodia has charged the United States with violating its frontiers by helping South Viet Nam forces chase Viet Cong guerrillas into Cambodian territory.

Catholics Adopt New Mass Sunday

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's Roman Catholics will worship in a new way at Mass Sunday. About half of it will be in English instead of Latin.

The Vatican Council authorized the reforms last year in Rome. Those at Mass will also exchange responses with the priest, join him in readings and, in some churches, sing hymns.

CAMP HANSEN, Okinawa (AP) — The body of Pfc. Vincent Di Domenico Jr., of Norristown, Pa., was recovered Friday from the camp Hansen Reservoir in Naha, Okinawa, authorities said. They said he was one of two marines who drowned in the reservoir Thursday.

7 Congressmen Leave For Prague

MOSCOW (AP) — Seven U.S. Congressmen — including J. Irving Whalley, R-Pa., and Harris B. McDowell Jr., D-Del., plan to leave for Prague today after stopping off in Moscow.

Friday the Congressmen met with Deputy Foreign Minister V. V. Kuznetsov at the Soviet Foreign Ministry.

Kuznetsov repeated Soviet Protests over paratroop landings in the Congo during the 40-minute talks.

Rep. John S. Monaghan, D-Conn., spokesman for the group, called the visit here "a rewarding experience which will help us with our work on the Foreign Affairs Committee."

Also included in the group are Congressmen E. Y. Berry, Jr., R-S.D., Peter Frelinghuysen Jr., R-N.J., Lindley Beckworth, D-Texas, and William T. Murphy, D-Ill.

EPIDEMIC CUTS INTO TRAINING

FORT ORD, Calif. (AP) — The Army has extended the suspension of basic training at Fort Ord for an additional month through Jan. 31 in the wake of the lingering meningitis outbreak.

Previous plans to close the post to recruits during December only were shelved "to make certain that the disease is stamped out," an Army spokesman said Friday. Health and sanitation measures are planned.

The last group of trainees will leave the post this weekend. Thereafter Western states recruits will train at other centers. This will reduce the post population from 25,000 to about 16,000.

Fifteen of the 105 soldiers struck with meningitis this year at Fort Ord have died, and 10 recruits remain in the hospital with the disease.

BOARD QUERIES INSURANCE MAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators have had a talk with insurance man Don B. Reynolds in preparation for the reopening of the Bobby Baker hearings next week.

Reynolds, a key witness in the earlier hearings on the business activities of the former Senate employee, spent 2½ hours Friday being questioned by the staff of the Senate Rules Committee.

Lennox P. McLendon, special counsel to the committee, declined to say what Reynolds was questioned about but said he had provided new information on some documents.

Reynolds was accompanied by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., who helped force the new round of hearings by charging in a Senate speech that Reynolds channeled a $25,000 kick-back from contractor Matthew J. McCloskey to Baker for the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson election campaign.

2 Quadruplets Back In Hospital

JACKSON, Tenn. (AP) — Two of the Lyons Quadruplets are back in the hospital where they were born after a brief stay at home in nearby Maury City, Tenn.

Lamar and Willie Lyons Jr., were hospitalized Friday for what hospital administrator T. Ray Jones called "observation due to head colds."

The quadruplets were born Nov. 1 to the Rev. and Mrs. Willie Grant Lyons. Lamar and a sister, Caroline, went home Nov. 19. Willie Jr. and Polly Ann left the hospital Monday.

Lyons is a part-time Negro preacher who supplements his $28 a month salary doing odd jobs. A fund to aid the family has reached $7,000. Contributions of $1,377 Friday included a $250 check from Gov. Frank Clement and his cabinet.

Kentucky Jurists Serve In Pairs

LOUISVILLE (AP) — The Bluegrass State is the only one ever to have three native sons serving together on the U.S. Supreme Court. It happened twice.

In the 1930s, Justice Stanley Reed, James McReynolds and Louis D. Brandeis were together. Chief Justice Fred Vinson and Justices Reed and Wiley Rutledge sat together in the late 1940s and early 50s.

Add Theater Files To N. Y. Library

NEW YORK (AP) — The theatrical collection of Mrs. Hallie Flanagan Davis, who was director of the Federal Theater Project during the 1930s, is being added to the thespic files of the New York Public Library in its new Lincoln Center headquarters.

The files include annotated scripts, lectures, administrative papers, programs and photographs. Mrs. Davis is now living in retirement in a New York city suburb.

Fear For Four Yanks In Congo

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An official of the Worldwide Evangelization Crusade in suburban Fort Washington says he's concerned over two American missionaries and two children.

Gordon Gale, extension director for the group, Friday expressed concern for William McChesney, 27, of Phoenix, Ariz., Mrs. Delores Cunningham, 40, of Yakima, Wash., and her two children, a girl, 3, and a boy, 6. He said they may be at the mercy of the Congolese rebels.

At the same time, Gale said he was notified that one missionary from his organization is safe in Leopoldville. He said he had received word that Miss Agnes Chanaler, 63, of Brea, Calif., was safe and possibly on her way home.

Gale said the WEC, an interdenominational missionary organization, was founded in 1913 by C. T. Studd, of Cambridge University in England. At first the organization had a mission only in Africa but now has missions in 40 countries.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sydney L. O'Guin, 52, a Federal Communications Commission expert on telephone rates, died Friday of a heart attack.

LA PORTE, Ind. (AP) — Dr. Edward A. Rumely, 82, former editor and publisher of the New York Evening Mail, died Thursday.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Mother Mary Hilaria, 77, former commissary general of the School Sisters of Notre Dame, died Friday of cancer.

Teenagers Shoot Youth And Date

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police said a youth and his date standing on a North Philadelphia corner were both wounded in an apparently unprovoked attack by a group of teenagers.

William Morris, 18, and Gwendolyn Jones, 16, were standing on the street corner when 10 teenagers ran toward them and fired shots, police said. Both were taken to Philadelphia General Hospital for treatment.

FESTIVAL OF LIGHTS OPENS

NEW YORK (AP) — In millions of Jewish homes Sunday night, a candle or an orange-colored bulb will be lit, signifying the start of the Festival of Lights, otherwise known as Hanukkah.

Monday night two lights will shine; on the third night, three; and so on, until on the eighth and final night of the holiday, eight lights are burning.

Jewish children customarily receive presents on one or all of these nights.

Hanukkah has its origins in the defeat of a Greek army some 2,000 years ago by a small band of Jewish fighters and in their subsequent triumphant entry into Jerusalem.

According to legend, as the Jews were cleansing the holy temple there for its rededication, they found a container with only enough oil to light their work for one day. But the oil in the lamp miraculously burned for eight days.

Andy Griffith says a 38-year-old man shouldn't giggle about romance . . . but there's no rule against smiling about the new girl in Sheriff Andy Taylor's life. The pretty school teacher is portrayed by Aneta Corsaut and though she won't be in every episode you'll be seeing more of her in "The Andy Griffith Show" (Mondays, 8:30 p.m., CBS).

Do Not Just Purchase Any Old Antique

By RUTH HIGGINS

Antique hunting is a dangerous enough sport for the untrained as is without adding the heady lure of auction atmosphere to boot!

But how do you get "the training?" Maybe you want a picture this month, a spindly chair some other time or an Early American chest of drawers. "I can't be expert in all of them," you wail. "Sometimes you have to trust to instinct and what appeals to you."

Well maybe . . . but art authority Aline Saarinen offered an excellent primer on a recent "Today" program that if heeded might save a few instincts from unexpected bruises.

EXAMINE FIRST

Never bid on anything you haven't had a chance to examine carefully. "The contents of most sales are on exhibition in advance."

Check the catalogue. Honest auction houses, says Mrs. Saarinen, point out imperfections such as "repaired leg," or "torn rush." If it just says "small imperfections" you have to find out for yourself.

Familiarize yourself with "the language of furniture styles." Chippendale, Adam, etc. refer to a particular cabinetmaker, or furniture in his manner. "Louis XV" refers to a period. But "style" is a word to watch. "Georgian style" would mean a reproduction — maybe an old one — but not of the period.

SOME TRICKIES

"Some auction houses use initials rather than the whole name if there's a question about the certainty of attribution. For instance, 'P. A. Renoir' instead of 'Pierre-Auguste.' " "School of . . ." means a painting in the manner of — say Botticelli — and of his period. "Circle of" implies more or less closeness to the master. Prices. If you don't know the field, you won't know if it's in your range. What then? Ask an attendant the estimated high and low price. That way you won't go over.

If in doubt, do comparative shopping or library research. Concludes Aline Saarinen, "The old adage of 'buyer beware' always holds, and all auction sales are final."

BACKING ABEL

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohio locals of the United Steelworkers of America are giving lopsided support to I. W. Abel's candidacy for president of the USW, according to reports of district directors of the union.

Abel, now secretary-treasurer of the USW, is running against incumbent President David J. McDonald.

Sheldon Found The Right Vehicle For The Talents Of Patty Duke In TV Show

Sidney Sheldon started becoming an expert on teen-agers the day he was contacted by Patty Duke's agent and asked to try to create a show around the young Academy Award winning actress.

He learned so fast that the comedy series he created, ABC-TV's "The Patty Duke Show," hit the top ten within the first few weeks during its first season. It is presently in its second season running as strong as ever.

WASN'T EASY

"It wasn't at all simple coming up with the right idea," reminisced Mr. Sheldon during a break from his typewriter. "I remember staring at the wall for quite a long time after accepting the assignment trying to figure out what kind of a show would be right for an actress of Patty's proven ability. I knew the critics would be laying in wait for her if we presented her in a comedy show, but I had no intention of trying anything else. My object was to put her in a comedy but still give her a chance to act."

Sheldon, who had no real television background until The Patty Duke series, owns a movie Oscar for his screenplay "The Bachelor and The Bobby Soxer." That might explain why there were several people who felt he was the right man to write a show for Patty.

IDEA OF TWINS

"After several different approaches I finally came up with the idea of twins and everybody shouted, 'Great!'" continued Sheldon. "But twins presented more problems than the idea was worth. For one thing, I wanted Patty to be able to give each girl a completely different personality and an audience would find it hard to believe from twins. So — I returned to the drawing board and stared back at the wall."

The final idea of look-alike cousins whose fathers were twins and who live together because one is English and her father, a widower, is a foreign correspondent, finally solved Sidney's problems.

SAW LONG RUN

Sidney Sheldon writes most of the scripts in his small office located in the studio where the show is produced.

When The Patty Duke Show became the big hit of last season Sidney resigned himself (with no great effort) to a long run.

"I'm still amazed at Patty's ability," admits Mr. Sheldon. "An actress like her comes along in a life time. She can pick up the script, catch on at first reading and switch from Cathy to Patty and back again without missing a beat."

Sid optimistically envisions college, marriage, children, and even grandchildren for the joint character who has practically chained him to a typewriter since 1963.

FOR RETIRED LUTHERANS

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Forty acres of "Tucson Green Valley," a planned retirement community in southern Arizona, has been reserved for development as residences for retired Lutherans.

Jackie Coogan tells why he's already gained 35 pounds leading a ghoul's life in "The Addams Family." Read about it in Ruth E. Thompson's December 6 article.

Pack Sled Trails With Old Roller

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Sledding on metropolitan park hills is being made easier these days by a 19th Century farm implement and an idea borrowed from road keepers of old New England and New York.

Whenever heavy snows hit, sledding becomes sluggish. To pack down the snow, park crews tried various tractor-drawn drags, but results left something to be desired.

Then Dr. Arthur T. Wilcox, parks director, remembered that on his family farm in Chautauqua County, N.Y., was a wooden roller that had been used for some 100 years to break clods in plowed soil. Similar to equipment used years ago to make unpaved roads passable, it's now being used in the Akron parks, says Wilcox.

"It's better than anything else we've tried."

New Yorkers Favor Classical Dance

NEW YORK (AP) — Classical ballet was voted the most popular form of dancing by spectators at Central Park's dance festival.

Over 50,000 people attended the week-long exhibit, and 2,000 filled in printed questionnaires. Following classical ballet in popularity was modern dance, with folk and Spanish terpsichore far behind.

MINES GETTING SAFER

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky has not had a mine accident in which five or more fatalities resulted in 18 years. There was only one fatality in Kentucky coal mine accidents for each 2.3 million tons mined during 1963 — the best record in the 84-year history of the state mines and minerals department.

Ex-Airman Ronnie Schell Is Star Of New TV Show

Ronnie Schell began his career as a comedian while serving in the Air Force. He volunteered to be master of ceremonies for a variety show, "to get out of doing K.P."

Now, he's featured as a Marine Corps boot, a station in life not noticeably higher than an Air Force K.P., on "Gomer Pyle — USMC," new comedy series starring Jim Nabors and Frank Sutton on the CBS Television Network (Fridays 9:30-10 p.m.).

SLOWEST-RISING

At first glance, this would seem to bear out the claim Schell has made years, in billing himself as "America's slowest-rising young comedian." Actually, a comparison of the pay check of an Air Force private with the one drawn down by Schell as Duke, buddy of Marine Gomer Pyle, would dull the point of Schell's gag.

Schell is a Californian, born in Richmond, raised in the San Francisco Bay area and graduated from San Francisco State College.

His better — an — MC — than — a — K.P. bit led to travels with an Air Force dance band, performing a comedy act of his own

CHRISTINE FACING NEW ADJUSTMENT

CLEVELAND (AP) — Now that her battle against cancer, which cost her a leg, has been won, Christine Simko, 14, will have another adjustment to make — in a children's home in Fort Wayne, Ind.

Christine's plight from hip cancer became widely known when she ran away from the hospital just before her leg was to be amputated.

The operation was necessary to save her life, doctors said. Her mother refused to allow it and it had to be ordered by Juvenile Court Judge Walter G. Whitlatch.

But Christine is unhappy over the prospect of living at the home, which she visited last month.

"All these institutions are the same," she said. "You really don't know what they're like until you're in them and can't leave."

Placing her in the Protestant Home for Dependent Children is the Cuyahoga County Division of Child Welfare. She has been in county hospitals here for almost a year.

"The home is a good place for her," Judge Whitlatch said.

"Christine's biggest offense was not getting along with her mother and running away from home. She isn't a bad girl but she needs direction."

No Way To Please Traffic Police

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — James Monroe Page is convinced he can't win.

Recently he was brought into court on a speeding charge.

Two weeks later, he was back — charged with driving five miles an hour in Labor Day traffic.

Page said he thought his speed was about right; the arresting officer said he was driving so slowly that cars were passing on both sides.

The judge said "$50 please."

Richard Boone Plans To Make Full Scale Network Series In Hawaii; He Will Be Star

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "It's the hardest thing in the world to convince the networks that a television series can be made entirely in Hawaii," said Richard Boone. "Those boys think the natives still wear rings in their noses."

But Boone is a resolute man, and he intends to realize his dream of bringing a full-scale movie operation to the 50th state.

His opening wedge: A television series in color to star — Richard Boone.

CASHES ON NAME

"Naturally I'd have to be in it, so I can sell it to the networks," said the veteran of three series. "I don't mind. I spent a lot of years building up this name. I might as well cash in on it."

The series would be the beginning of what he hopes will be a self-sustaining tropical Hollywood. Last week he entertained Hawaiian backers of his proposed two-stage studio and had them inspect facilities at CBS' television center which would serve as prototypes. The money-men are willing, said Boone, and he expects to be making an announcement about building.

WILL MAKE FEATURES

"After we get the series rolling, we'll go after feature production," he said. "This year there were seven features shot in Hawaii — four Americans and three Japanese. Our stages would be mighty attractive to producers."

A home town boy, Boone left the city of his birth last summer to take up permanent residence in Hawaii. The results have exceeded his hopes, he remarked.

The actor has returned for a film role, starring with Charlton Heston in a medieval epic, "War Lord." He has mixed feelings about the assignment.

"WAR LORD" SCRIPT

"The script is one of the best I have ever read," he commented. "But talk about slow — The shooting just seems to go on and on."

"I was thinking it was the longest project I've ever been on when Chuck Heston happened to remark that it was going the fastest of any picture he remembers. Then I realized our points of view. He was thinking in terms of 'Ben-Hur' and 'The Ten Commandments' and I was harking to television schedules."

New Police System Speeds Admissions

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Police Department has installed a "Facsimile Transmission" system between district stations and central headquarters to identify persons in custody.

Supt. O. W. Wilson said the system will reduce prisoner processing time by about six hours.

Previously when a man was taken into custody his fingerprints were taken and then sent to police headquarters by police mail for a check. Sometimes the man remained in the lockup for as long as six hours.

Supt. Wilson said the new system is the first known application of utilizing electrical transmission of fingerprints in the United States.

Halloway Had Acting Start In Beery Film

Sterling Holloway tried to sneak out of town the first time he saw himself on film, and he almost made it.

But the long arm and vise-like grip of motion-picture studio personnel interrupted his flight, and not a minute too soon. The lean, red-haired actor with the voice of a leaky faucet had one foot on an eastbound train.

SUGGESTS PLOT

The attempted escape, the escape, the chase and ultimate capture suggests a movie plot that might have been written three decades ago, which is close enough at the time the actual episode took place.

Holloway, who is featured as Buck Singleton in "The Baileys of Balboa" (Thursday, 9:30-10 p.m.) on the CBS Television Network, recalls that faraway day like this:

"I had come from New York to Hollywood to make my first movie. I don't even remember the title, only that Wallace Berry was in it. I made the mistake of looking at the first day's rushes (quickly developed film shot the previous day), and I couldn't believe it was me. It was awful. Next morning I tried to get on a train in Pasadena, but the people from the studio stopped me. They were very nice, in a threatening sort of way, so I had to go back and finish the picture."

RECORDS CARTOONS

To this day, Holloway will not look at rushes.

Holloway went on to make dozens of films over the years and to become one of Hollywood's best-known and most easily recognized comedy actors. His most recent motion picture is "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World," in which he plays a fireman.

Holloway has spent much of his time in recent years recording children's albums, serving as the voice of cartoon characters, taking guest-star roles on television and adding to his extensive collection of modern art.

The 160-acre meadowland at Runnymede was once part of a large estate owned by an American-born woman, Lady Fairhaven. She died in 1939, leaving the historic grounds to the British government.
